WATER CO. PUMPS START SUNDAY AS RAIN HOPES FADE

San Antonio Concern To Make Supply Available To All Members

RATE SAME AS LAST YEAR

Lack of Precipitation Brings Many Requests for Water Throughout District

Pumps of the San Antonio Water Co. will begin Sunday.

Always hopeful of rain, but failing to see these hopes realized, citrus growers this week turned to the water company with requests for irrigation service. Several other local water companies have already started the pumps.

Some citrus growers have been irrigating for a week or so, with gravity water from the adjacent canyons. The demand in the last few days for water, however, has been so great that the San Antonio company will start its pumps with the flow available to all members on regular schedule.

The San Antonio company's rate will be the same this year as last—40 cents per day inch, with a 10 per cent discount for prompt payment.

Other seasons have seen the pumps placed in operation this early, but since 1908 the average starting time has been a few weeks later. Usually rainfall is recorded in April and if precipitation comes next month the underground water basin will receive much needed relief.

Due to the lack of rain this spring irrigation in general is being started now.

Agricultural Teams At Perris Tomorrow

Of great importance to the agricultural students at Chaffey is the judging contest at Perris tomorrow with 25 going from here to compete, with Charles A. Perrin, director, in charge of the group. The leading agricultural schools of the southland will have teams to compete in stock, dairy and poultry judging.

This contest will be a practice one, but if Chaffey is near the top it will be rated a strong contender for the state finals May 3 at San Luis Obispo, winner of which will be sent to eastern meets.

William Smale will represent Chaffey in the declamation contest held under the sponsorship of the Future Farmers of America. His topic will be "Reconstruction of the Swine Industry."

If he lands a berth in Pomona, his loss on the local nine will be keenly felt.

Upland Inn Opens Dining Room With Dinner on Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Avery of the Upland Inn are opening the dining room of their hostelry on Sunday, announcement of which will be found in today's News.

For some years their dining room has been closed to the public and the reason for the opening again is that they have been fortunate in securing an exceptionally capable lady to have charge, Mrs. J. F. Freeland. Mrs. Freeland conducted a dining room at Claremont for some years and is experienced in catering to the public in this manner.

A specialty will be made of Sunday dinners at 65c and 75c, while regular week day dinners will be 50c. Plate lunches at 25c, 35c and 40c will be featured each day.

Mrs. Freeland is also experienced in catering to parties, clubs and other large groups. The dining room at the Upland Inn is a spacious and comfortable room and its opening will no doubt prove attractive to a large patronage.

10 HERE AFFECTED BY VETERAN'S ACT

Measure Passed in Washington This Week Restores Compensation Checks

Ten World War veterans in the Upland district are affected by the passage of the independent offices appropriation bill in Washington this week over President Roosevelt's veto.

The measure places on the list of those to receive compensation, veterans whose disability is among the "presumptive cases." Those formerly getting $100 a month will get $75 and those formerly getting $80 a month will get $65.

The presumptive cases are those whose disability cannot be traced directly to service in the World War, but where there is perhaps a connection with the service. The economy act of last year removed these cases from the compensation rolls. The new act reinstates the veterans on a basis of 75 per cent of their former compensation.

Alan S. Barr, service officer of the local post of the American Legion, explained the provisions of the new act as it affects veterans. He estimated that from eight to ten veterans here would be affected.

The measure providing for immediate payment of the bonus to veterans has been passed by the house of representatives, but has not gone as far as the senate. The bill of this week had no bearing on the bonus payment bill.

POSTAL BUILDING FUND MAY BE GONE

Some Allotments for Federal Structures Withdrawn; Chamber Gets Data

Sam S. Collins, representative in Congress from this district, will be asked by the Upland chamber of commerce if this city's allocation for a post office is still available.

If it is, then the chamber leaders will contact the federal postal inspector for this district, with the hope of getting him to come here and officially look over several sites and make a selection for the proposed federal building.

This procedure was followed at Redlands, where a governmental building is now under construction. Sum of $80,000 was allotted Upland for a building more than a year ago. Some allotments have been withdrawn and Avery S. Allen, chamber secretary, was advised Upland might have been one of these cities.

To do everything possible to get action on the allotment, the chamber recently appointed Ernest Olson head of a special post office committee. He and Mr. Allen and others will seek to contact the proper persons and keep Upland's appeal before the officials.

Total of $10,200 in construction was started, as indicated in the March totals as kept by Ted C. Combs, building inspector and assistant city engineer.

Andy K. Rae obtained the last permit, that being for $200 to re-roof his residence at 404½ Ninth avenue.

CWA LEAVES LOCAL WORK UNFINISHED

Three Reservoirs Being Constructed With Federal Funds

Discontinuance of the CWA program for unemployment relief this week left this city's principal project uncompleted. Three water reservoirs were under way with many local men being employed with federal funds, up until the time the relief program was brought to a close.

A new plan of providing employment is expected to be started next month. The reservoir on Twenty-second street is nearly finished. The Twenty-sixth street reservoir is slightly less incomplete, with the Fifteenth street reservoir only started.

The reservoirs are a part of the progam to povide for better water facilities here, with the city taking advantage of the opportunity to get federal funds to help finance the improvements.

Richard G. Manley, city service manager, is in San Francisco today and he will have information, it is expected, about the new federal relief program.

PLANTING OF FISH IN CANYON TODAY BRIGHTENS FUTURE

CUCAMONGA GETS MANY

Many More Hundreds Mature Fish Will be Available For Fans

Cucamonga canyon today got hundreds of trout six inches long. In the coming weeks additional hundreds of the mature fish will be liberated from the Forest Home hatchery and other hatcheries as part of the program to improve fishing conditions. Trout season opens May 1.

Today's fish were liberated above the second falls, within a radius of a mile. While other streams in the adjacent mountain area have received fish, this was the first allotment for the Cucamonga stream.

Due to the plan of placing fish in the streams and lakes the 1934 season is being looked forward to as the best ever to be experienced by southland sportsmen. The Izaak Walton League has been an important group in this endeavor with the local sportsmen being responsible for much of the activity.

Those expected to assist today in placing the fish in the canyon stream were Roy Creighton, Lacy Handley, Francis Kuhns, G. Byron Ford, Jr., James Collingsworth, Dave L. Vasbinder, Don Meredith, Arthur Throop and Clair Blakeslee from this district and several Claremont men.

1200 WORKING IN CITRUS ACTIVITY

Local Associations Near Peak of Picking, Packing of Oranges, Lemons

Nearly 1200 persons are today employed in the harvesting of the orange and lemon crop in the Upland district.

Peak of the citrus picking and packing is here and this number of persons will be employed for several weeks, with the activity decreasing later. The dozen packing houses in Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda are employing more persons now than at any time since a year ago and this fact is greatly benefiting the local employment situation.

Prices of oranges are steady, with fluctuations being not more than 7 cents a box for several weeks. Top price at eastern markets yesterday was $3.65 a box. Lemons are bringing a price that will net local growers a fairly good margin, according to reports, with pesterday's top lemon price being $4.60.

Approximately 200 cars of citrus fruit will have been moved out of local packing houses by the end of the week. Last week 184 carloads of oranges and lemons were sent to bidders at the metropolitan centers.

C. S. Kelley Attends Annual Convention of Insurance Group

C. S. Kelley of West Eighteenth street, who recently attended a convention of the Farmers Automobile Inter-Insurance Exchange at Los Angeles, where over 500 delegates from fifteen western states gathered to celebrate the sixth anniversary of that repidly growing concern, says the most outstanding feature of the convention was the proof that the public is financially able and willing to buy automobile insurance protection in a sound company at the right price.

This fact is reflected in the financial strength of the Exchange and the rapid growth shown. Each year the Exchange has shown increased revenue, and cash assets in 1933 increased 25.96%, premium income increased 19.34% surplus increased 35.86% and policies in force increased 21.75%.

The prospect for further development, he states, is greater today than at any other time in the history of his company.

RIGHT OF PRUNING WINDBREAK ISSUE

Alta Loma Grove Owners in Court to Decide If Trees May Be Trimmed

Who owns the trees forming a windbreak and to what extent can the trees be pruned?

Superior Judge Allison will soon give a definite answer to the question as the result of a suit filed with him involving owners of citrus groves in Alta Loma. The windbreak in question divides the groves of William R. Anderson and P. J. Wieland Estate, Inc., on Church street between Hellman and Archibald avenues.

Mr. Wieland started to have eucalytus trees, forming the windbreak, pruned when Mr. Anderson obtained a temporary injunction. Arguments on which Judge Allison will base his decision will be presented by Edward E. Gray, attorney for Mr. Wieland, and Archie Mitchell attorney for Mr. Anderson.

Each grove owner contends ownership of the windbreak. Mr. Wieland is of the belief that the tree branches, extending over his lemon trees, damage his property. Mr. Anderson contends that pruning of the windbreak damages its value in protecting his trees.

Mr. Gray said today that arguments in the case will be presented next month with the decision to have a bearing on many groves in the district.

Hospital News

Olaf Snyder, who was seriously ill, is improving, although it may be several weeks before his condition is satisfactory. He is a member of the Chaffey high school faculty.

Miss Ida Vernon will be removed to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs Kirk Vernon, tomorrow. She has been a patient at the hospital for several weeks, with a steady improvement in her condition making it possible for her removal.

Easter isn't a time to have operations or to be sick, apparently, for indications today were that Sunday would find the number of patients at a low mark.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Miller of Vernon drive are the parents of a son, born Wednesday.

And Now It's Not A Secret Any More

After many inquiries being made concerning the "surprise" music provided at the recent entertainment given in Fellowship hall by the Methodist church orchestra, the secret has at last been told and it is revealed that those who provided the surprise were themselves the ones most surprised.

During the party, music from an invisible source filled the hall and the several numbers were much enjoyed, although the audience and the orchestra members, themselves, were puzzled as to its source.

Herbert Hall, with two or three members of the orchestra and other musicians had secretly installed a broadcasting system in the Presbyterian church, and using the pipe organ, several numbers were broadcast through a radio concealed in Fellowship hall. The music went through beautifully, but when the announcer attempted to explain the source, something went wrong and his words could not be understood. Thinking all had gone well, the broadcasters returned to Fellowship hall and were so surprised to find their secret still a secret, that they said nothing and let it remain a secret.

No Place Like Home!

"A company manufacturing electrical devices has recently built and equipped an eight-room house in which everything from dishwashing to helping sister with her homework is to be performed by turning a switch. There are so many gadgets that if all the buttons were pressed at the same time the power obtained would equal that of 864 servants. Servants, too, that don't expect a Thursday off.

"There are nineteen built-in motors to perform various services from running a laundry and keeping the house air-conditioned to mixing the mayonnaise or playing with the baby. The house has automatic lighting, burglar alarms, automatic sliding doors, radio controls for the garage, portable telephones, red and violet electric lamps, bathrooms that dry towels and several other magical effects. For the entertainment of the family and the undoubted annoyance of the neighbors the house contains seven electrical radio sets.

"Remarkable as this home of tomorrow is admitted to be, its designers apparently are modest enough to realize that it is not yet perfect. It is reported that they are still working on a device which, when attached to a meat platter will guarantee at least four drumsticks to each roast chicken. So far, also, there is no button to press that will prevent the head of the house starting to wash his hands only just as dinner is announced. The engineers are still struggling with a patent alarm to be attached to Junior's bed which will not only tell him when it is 7 o'clock in the morning but also will throw him on the floor at the same moment.

"The designers have tried to make this house so attractive that a housewife will never want to go out, and the suspicion will not down that a group of sly husbands must have had a hand in its construction."

The above is from a recent issue of the Christian Science Monitor—and apparently the writer has the very bad habit of washing his hands at the wrong time and is also the father of a young son. Be that as it may—there are other "conveniences" which should be in the electrified and glorified home of tomorrow. For instance—there should be a switch that would automatically put the young folks to bed at the proper time, as well as getting them up in the morning. Then, with the almost universal rage of contract bridge abroad in the land, there should be some automatic method of adding scores in order that they may be correct, as well as a way to convey to one's partner just what they mean by bidding a certain way. We know nothing about bridge—but judging by comments we hear there must be some bridge players who do not know how to add, just as there are some golf players who have that peculiarity.

Then, too, why not have in this electrical house of tomorrow a button which one can punch and have the car come rolling from the garage and stop at the front door? It's a terrible inconvenience for one to do this chore as it is done today.

The house of tomorrow should also have automatic stairways to eliminate the arduous task of chasing up and down steps. And an electric device for transferring the food from one's plate to his mouth would make it more convenient to read the morning paper without annoyance of having to scoop it up. Also an automatic shut-off to make most of us stop eating when we have had enough would be a Godsend, preserving the health of the nation and leaving one more comfortable for the day.

There are, of course, many more improvements one could suggest for the modern home of tomorrow—but we should not expect to get them all at once.

Other Editors' Ideas

More Drunk Drivers

Los Angeles Times: The order of the District Attorney directing felony complaints against all drunk drivers, whether involved in accidents or not, calls attention to the vast increase in drunk driving since repeal. No such drastic action ever was necessary during prohibition days. That the increase is actual and highly serious is proved by the report of Chief Cato of the State Highway Patrol.

This shows an increase of more than 11 per cent in January over January of 1933, and a still greater increase for February in mortalities resulting from drunk driving.

The whole year, 1933, the transition year from prohibition to legalized liquor, during most of which there was no attempt to stop liquor sale, registered a 40 per cent increase over the previous year in drunk-driving accidents causing death, and a 26 per cent increase in all types of accidents involving drinking.

Thus it is plainer than ever that alcohol and gasoline make a very bad mixture. Not only have accidents increased with increasing liquor supplies, but they result in more deaths.

Cato's statement, "No man who has been drinking is a safe driver," needs to be hammered home. The courts will have to do it if drivers fail to heed.

Tapping the Federal Till

North Hollywood Press: But at some point common sense must intervene against the theory that we can all be given happy homes on Easy street by tapping the federal till. It is bad when any segment of the population must be made easy and comfortable by tapping the federal till, for that simply means that the balance of the population is being taxed—is having removed from its own use part of its own money—for the comfort of the favored segment. Nobody will object to honest taxation for honestly administered relief of suffering fellowmen. That is necessary in humanity and necessary for the preservation of the social structure. But even there it is not a good thing; it is a necessary evil. When, next, the federal till is tapped for the benefit of those not in actual want, a very heavy burden is placed upon the government to prove the economic or social wisdom of the course, for in the end it simply means taking one man's money and giving it to another. And when the game goes beyond that, and every Peter is robbed to favor every Paul, the end of it all must be a condition of utter disorder and demoralization.

Popular Fallacy

Hemet News: Henry Ford advises men who haven't the skill to work with modern machinery to go back to the farm. He thereby seems to give approval to the fallacy summed up in the thoughtless phrase, "Any fool can run a farm." That never was true and it is farther from the truth now that it ever was before. Successful farming calls more and more for special aptitude and intelligence. It is difficult to see how the man incapable of acquiring and applying the relatively limited aptitude required on an assembly line could ever hope to know and learn to do the thousand and one things he needs to make him a capable farmer.

It isn't true of course that a failure at one thing may not become a success at something else. A poor tractor salesman may turn out to be a first class short story writer and a miserable failure at selling monkey wrenches may wind up one of the nation's leading bankers. But the idea that agriculture is a convenient dumping ground for failure generally is all wrong. Let anyone who thinks it calls for only a strong back and a weak mind try it for a spell and convince himself of the contrary.

His Money's Worth

The Scotchman, who is superintendent of a sawmill, had fallen into the mill pond, and while swimming around in it, called for help. The office boy came running to him and asked:

"Shall I call the employees from the mill to pull you out?"

"What time is it?" questioned the Scotchman.

"Eleven-thirty," answered the office boy.

"Well, never mind, I'll just paddle around until lunch time," replied the Scotchman.

MERCHANTS TO TALK NEW BUSINESS FEE

Revised Business License Is Aim of Committee With Meeting April 6

To consider a proposed revised business license ordinance, Upland merchants and their wives will unite in Fellowship hall of the Methodist church at 6:30 p. m., Friday, April 6. This will be the first dinner meeting of the group since the 1934 organization of the business group.

One of the principal problems before a major committee was the revision of the business license in the hope of eqalizing the amount of the fee paid with the amount of the firms' revenue. On the committee revising the ordinance were J. H. Siegrist, Charles Benson, Ernest C. Mehl, Amos R. Colborn and Clyde Jones.

City councilmen will be invited to attend the meeting and hear the report of the committee. Minimum amount paid for a business license now is $12 annually. The proposed measure calls for a smaller amount to be paid by the smaller business firms.

Approximately $4500 is received annually frof firms located here and those sending delivery trucks or salesmen here. The city budget contemplates this amount being received.

Mrs. Thomas Returns Home From Hospital Now Resting Easily

Believed now to be well started on the long road to recovery, Mrs. Webster H. Thomas, who suffered serious injuries in a motor car accident on Feb. 27, was able to be moved Tuesday from the San Antonio Community hospital to her home on West Twenty-third street. The removal to her home was accomplished successfully and she is getting on nicely today.

Mrs. S. O. Williams of Los Angeles, who came out at the time of the accident, is with her daughter, assisting in her care.

The fractures in Mrs. Thomas left shoulder and right collar bone, which were the most serious of her injuries, have been stubborn in refusing to heal properly and it has been necessary to perform open reduction operations. Such an operation performed about 10 days ago was quite successful, as shown by X-ray pictures taken Monday, and Mrs. Thomas' complete recovery is assured. Progress, however, probably will be slow and the patient who is securely trussed with airplane splints, will be confined to her bed for some time.

Warning of Communism Given As Lions Speaker Reveals Aim Of Reds To Cause Revolution

land Lions club in the Red Hill Country club yesterday noon, about the activities of the Communistic party of America and its many allied groups.

Joe Long, former Riveside mayor, civic leader and American Legion member, offered this statement and spoke frankly at the Up-

What labor trouble has recently occurred in the San Joaquin valley, the Imperial valley and other farming centers is only a suggestion of what may occur in the coming harvest seasons, Mr. Long said in referring to a continuous campaign to foment agitation.

One of the purposes of the Communists is to get Americans in the right attitude for a revolution to overthrow American government, he said. A union of socialistic republics, with Moscow as the capital, is the aim of the Communists, with the wide spread campaign being directed from the Russian capital.

The world wide communistic program includes the following, the speaker listed:

1. To stir up hatred of God and all forms of religion.
2. To destroy the private right of ownership.
3. To establish social and racial equality.
4. To spread revolting propaganda, which will result in strikes, insurrections and discontent.
5. To destroy Republican form of government.
6. To bring about a world revolution, to establish dictatorship over socialistic republics with the capital at Moscow.

Communists operate under names of organization which appear to be true American, Mr. Long said. Among the most active communist groups are the Workers' Ex-Servicemen's league, Young Pioneers of America and the Friends of Soviet Union.

At least 70 per cent of the communists are aliens, with about 30 per cent being Americans only by right of birth, he declared.

Mr. Long quoted frequently from the Fish report of 1931, which was submitted to the House of Representatives to show the extensive and insidious activities of the communist groups. This report, he said, is available at Washington, D. C., to all those wanting it at 10 cents a copy.

Mr. Long was introduced by Earl E. Marsh, program chairman. Besides the address, a feature of the meeting was the introduction of H. C. Van Dusen into club membership by Norman S. Lawson. The club voted to continue its meetings on Thursday, revoking a recent action to place the meetings on Friday.

Tangeman Heads Ontario G. E. Plant

Mr. Tangeman has been an employe of the factory since 1914, serving as head of the engineering department and as superintendent under Mr. Richardson.

JUDGE VAN LUVEN IN SHERIFF RACE

Now Serving Second Term As Poliice Judge in City of San Bernardino

Donald E. Van Luven, police judge of the city of San Bernardino, and a widely known resident of the county, today announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff of the county.

Judge Van Luven will seek the office on a platform based upon economy and efficiency, coupled with a plan to modernize the office. Among the plans which he proposes is one to equip a fleet of light fast cars with radios, which plan has proven highly effective in police work elsewhere.

Judge Van Luven has been a resident of San Bernardino county all his life. A native of the state and a member of a pioneer San Bernardino valley family, he resided in Colton until 1918. He attended grammar school and high school in Colton, later attending Oregon State college.

Then followed a business career in San Bernardino. In 1927 he was elected police judge of the city, being re-elected to that office by a large majority in 1931.

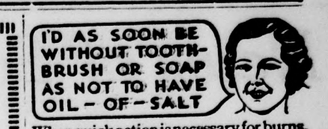

Judge Van Luven is widely known for his activities in civic and fraternal circles throughout the county. He is a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the American Legion, and of several other fraternal organizations. For more than 15 years he has carried a card of the Amarican Federation of Labor.

Social Meeting Held by Mary Brainard Tent, D. U. V.

The social meeting held Tuesday evening by Mary Brainard Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, at the home of Mrs. T. A. Evans on East Ninth street, proved to be a time for interesting reminiscences by several wives and widows of the Civil War soldiers, who were special guests.

A contributed dish dinner was served at 6:30, Mrs. Evans, whose birthday occurred Tuesday, being assisted by Mrs. Amy Frost she taking the place of the other birthday member, Mrs. Clara Tilden, who was ill.

Mrs. Evans selected white and yellow as her color motif, golden jonquil and white lilies gracing the tables. Other Easter decorations also were used.

Bradford, Mrs. H. J. Rowe and Mrs. Mary Gentry, wives and widows of veterans, and three other visitors, Mrs. W. J. Biering Mrs. Elizabeth R. Taylor and Mrs. Earl Riggs.

Upon request several of the elderly guests told of incidents they recall of Civil War days. Mrs. Whitaker wore a changeable silk dress 106 years old and in excellent condition, and her accessories were of the same period. Some of the guests remembered seeing their relatives and friends go away to war, others recalled stories about Lincoln and one remembered the excitemnt caused by the assassination of Lincoln.

Mrs. Holsclaw spoke briefly and a letter was read inviting the members to attend services at the Lutheran church in Ontario Sunday morning, April 8, when Mrs. Henry Lakemaker will present the Christian flag to the church.

The state convention is to be held in Long Beach in May and Mrs. Stevens has received a letter from Mrs. Charlyne C. Jurgewitz, department senior vice-president, requesting her to attend.

During the social meeting readings were given by Mrs. Burwell, Mrs. Riggs and Mrs. Frost, and assembly singing of old time songs was enjoyed.

Interesting Visitor at Humble Home

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Humble, 298 Sixth avenue, had the pleasure of entertaining at dinner Tuesday evening for several relatives, one of whom Robert Addison, is from Ottawa, Canada. The other guests, all of Pomona, were Mrs. Humble's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ingram and family William and Betty, with whom Mr. Addison has been visiting; Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Rhyndress, parents of Mrs. Humble, and Earl Armburst.

Mr. Addison, who is retired from active service after many years with the Canadian government, has just had an interesting, if not altogether pleasant experience, that of transporting a Chinese leper from New Brunswick to Vancouver, B. C., where a leper colony is maintained. An entire railway coach was chartered by the government and a partition erected across the center, the Chinaman occupying one section of the coach and Mr. Addison the other. A small window through which food was given to the leper was the only means of communication.

From Vancouver Mr. Addison came on here for a visit with his relatives. He is returning soon to Ottawa.

Mrs. Alexander then relinquished the chair to Mrs. S. M. Jessup, acting president of the Upland club, and she conducted a brief business meeting with the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Royal V. Ward assisting in the absence of Mrs. Clyde Whiteley, a member of the cast.

Presiding as program chairman, Mrs. Geo. S. Foster of the Upland club presented Mrs. Archie J. Neilsen, who sang a group of songs, "The Star" (Rogers), "Were My Song With Wings Provided" (Hahn), and "The Little Silver Ring" (Camenade). For an encore she sang "False Prophet." Mrs. George W. Cassell was her accompanist.

In the charming "prologue" to the play Mrs. Foster declared the greatest thing in life is love and that an understanding appreciation of one's neighbor-nations as well as individuals—will develop a greater love. Club women, she said, are following this theory in their efforts to further world peace through international understanding. It was with this in view that Mrs. Kipp, a member of the Upland club and chairman of the international interests for the Southern district federation, wrote the play, having the characters, who represent various nations, races, religions and political groups, bring their gifts of culture, phylosophy, art, music, etc., to the California club women.

The cast included Mrs. Kipp, as the club woman; Mrs. P. H. McQuillen, Religion; Mrs. J. E. Sargent, Catholicism; Mrs. Gust Anderson, Protestantism; Mrs. J. H. Freeman, Judahism; Miss Wanda Oswald, Christian Science; Mrs. F. A. Dickley, Japan; Mrs. Wm. J. Beard, Mexico; Mrs. J. A. Pitts, American Indian; Miss Dorothy Cameron, youth; Mrs. Lillian F. Baxter, Maid; Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, Politics; Mrs. Clyde Whiteley, Democrat; Mrs. Nora M. Eells, Republican; Miss Ruth Crane Socialist.

Mrs. Florence Dundas, pianist, and the Upland club chorus, directed by Miss Ethel Leeke, provided the musical background for the play, the chorus singing behind the scenes. Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson assisted as stage director.

At the conclusion of the play Mrs. Kipp and the cast received an ovation.

The meeting was brought to a close with a delightful tea hour arranged by the social committee of the Ontario club, Mrs. Roy D. Newton, chairman. Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. John S. Armstrong and Mrs. Herbert S. Bailey.

The very attractive decorations, arranged by Mrs. Chas. E. Mead, featured the colors of lavender, yellow and white, lilac, lupin, yellow broom, bridal wreath and calla lilies being used.

PHELPS FAMILY TO MOVE TO REDLANDS

H. G. Phelps of San Antonio Heights Sells Ranch in Ontario

A citrus grove exchange that will result in the removal from San Antonio Heights of one of the prominent families of that district has just been made by Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Phelps of Vista drive. The deal was consummated this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, who have been residents of San Antonio Heights for the past seven years, have exchanged their 16-acre orange grove on Benson avenue and D street, Ontario, for a fine 10-acre navel orange grove in Redlands and they will make their home in that city, the ranch being improved with an attractive home.

The family, however, will not go to the new ranch until after the close of school this summer.

According to present plans, Mrs. Mary Z. Phelps, mother of Mr. Phelps, will go to Redlands with her son and daughter-in-law. She is retaining her home property on Vista drive.

The property exchange was made with C. A. Messer, real estate operator in Redlands and San Bernardino. Whether Mr. Messer acquired the Ontario ranch as a home or for investment purposes he has not announced.

Cross of Yuccas At Camp Baldy Feature Of Easter Service

Before a 15 foot cross, made entirely of yuccas, several hundred persons will gather to pay worship to God at Easter sunrise services at Camp Baldy Sunday.

The program for the services follows:

400 TRACK STARS COMING APRIL 14

Ninth Annual Chaffey Meet Will Bring Many Teams to Graber Field

At least 400 stars of the prep athletic world will be on the Chaffey field April 14 for the ninth annual Chaffey invitational track and field meet. Twenty-five schools are expected to be entered, with this event bringing together more high school athletes than any other event in the state.

As Chaffey won the Southern Counties meet at Huntington Beach a few weeks ago, the Tigers are rated strong to lead their own meet. They won last year, but competition will be very severe according to the dope sheet.

Santa Ana, South Pasadena, Redlands and Riverside are looked upon as among the strongest schools.

So successfully have the meets of the past been handled that schools of the southland in general look to the Chaffey event as the one big opportunity to test their strength with their contemporaries.

With school being resumed Monday after Easter vacation, Coach W. H. Kegley will conduct an intensive two weeks of training.

18th Street P.-T. A. Will Meet Tuesday

April meeting of the Eighteenth street Parent-Teacher association will be held Tuesday, April 3, at the home of the president, Mrs. E. Earl Marsh, 1099 West Sixteenth street.

The recently elected officers will be installed, probably by Mrs. C. L. Cochran of Ontario, president of the Ontario Council, P.-T. A., and Mrs. Ola Walker of Ontario, safety chairman for the council, will be the program speaker.

A tea hour will follow the business meeting.

"Can you direct me to the National Bank?"

"Sorry, ma'am. I'm not a bank director." Reserve Red Cat.

Red Hill Country Club—Golfing and Plans for Future

Qualifying rounds for participation in the John D. Howe tourney at Red Hill Country club will end tomorrow night, with the first round to get underway next week. Handicaps are given all who attempt to qualify Pro Tommy Sheehan said.

Twenty had qualified for the event up until this morning.

The Breakfast golfing club may be formed again at Red Hill with the Sunday morning golfers to meet at 8:30 a. m. During the fall season golfers met Sunday mornings after enjoying breakfast at the club. This plan may be resumed again April 8.

When the Estates Water Co. begins pumping on a regular schedule, the Red Hill club pool will be opened. About May 1 water will be available.

The club grounds are being beautified. During the past week the southern slope from the club house has been cleared of brush, with petunias being set out along the walk. In general the grounds have been beautified with other improvements to be made.

FISCHER SEES NEW TEACHING SPIRIT

Chaffey Principal Tells Of Optimistic Attitude At Fresno Meeting

Ernest W. Fischer, principal of Chaffey high school, was back today from Fresno where he attended a conference of high school and junior college principals.

The spirit of optimism that is apparent in the business world is also strongly felt among teachers of the state, he said. "Some districts, due to the earthquake of last year, are worse off financially than a year ago, but nevertheless, there is a feeling that things are right and that conditions will improve steadily," Mr. Fischer added.

A feature of the conference was the opportunity to meet with other school officials and discuss common problems, with the best features of various schools discussed. State Superintendent Kersey pointed the way for the future when he advised that the best practices and the best teaching methods of the various schools and districts be generally adopted, the local principal reported. Where possible, there should be some experimentation with new courses and new methods to keep step with changing conditoins, the state official advised.

The outstanding address of the conference in Mr. Fischer's estimation was given by a representative of the American Association of University Women on "What Laymen Want from the High School."

ALTA LOMA-CUCAMONGA

Woman's Club Entertained

With the home of Mrs. Severin Johnson on Lomita drive as the attractive setting, members of the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club recently enjoyed a delightful spring-time party in connection with their regular club meeting, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Mary McDonald being hostesses.

Purple and yellow, colors of the Easter season, predominated in the decorations, purple iris and yellow blossoms being used in the living room. For the charmingly appointed tea table, lavender, yellow and white sweet peas and baby's breath were utilized, being complimented with tall lavender candles. Further emphasis of the Easter motif was given with a number of fluffy baby chicks cleverly placed among the flowers.

Opening with the usual ceremony, the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. E. S. Bishop, president. Mrs. A. C. Beattie, welfare chairman, made an extensive report of the work accomplished in the community and stated that preparations have been made to begin the relief employment work for women as soon as the funds are received.

Mrs. Leslie Foster, the club's representative on the Upland Motion Picure Council, gave an interesting account of a recent meeting and Mrs. Lillian F. Baxter of Upland read two poems, one being a beautiful poem, "Friends," written by Mrs. Leslie Foster.

The roll call of he membership was answered with current events of national importance, these discussions providing an interesting period until the arrival from Chaffey of Prof. Wiley W. Mather, the program speaker.

Mr. Mather discussed "The Present Trend in the Political Dilemma," giving his attention to seven phases of the complex problem facing the nation today.

A decided change in the economic and political life of the nation is at hand, in the opinion of the speaker, and whether that change is to be beneficial or detrimental will be decided by the degree of support the people accord the constructive forces, he said.

Following his address Mr. Mather devoted some time to answering questions and discussing with the club women various opinions advanced by them.

The program was followed by a delightful tea hour with Mrs. Arthur G. Phelps and Miss Mary Albert presiding at the tea table where many delectable confections were served.

The club will meet again in two weeks when Mrs. Harold Cady will present the program, the theme of which will be "Who's Who in Feminine Life in Washington."

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Parsons, 1574 North Hellman avenue, are having the pleasure of entertaining Mr. Parsons' sister, Mrs. Charles Postt of Azusa. Mrs. Postt expects to remain with her relatives for some time.
